THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN WILL be issued on Friday and Saturday in doublesheet form-an eight-page publication of fifty-six columns. The Friday-inauguration day-issue will contain a complete history of the ceremonies attendant upon the inauguration of all the Presidents of the United States from George Washington to President Garfield. It will give a complete list of the military and civic organizations that will be present at General Garfield's inauguration, with a full history of each, and the personnel of the same.

The Saturday's issue-double sheetwill contain an elaborate account in complete detail of the ceremonies and incidents which take place on the 4th, and will have a full graphic description of the grand inaugural ball, with mention of the guests in attendance, the ladies' toilets, and the interesting incidents in connection with that magnificent spectacle. These double sheet issues will also contain a full presentation of telegrams from all parts of the world; also, the congressional, departmental, political, social, personal, and local news of the day.

With the new, clear, and bright typographical dress of our paper, we claim that The National Republican in its issue of Friday and Saturday will be the most complete and attractive newspaper ever published in the National Capital.

The Last Day.

To-day will be the last one of an imbecile Congress. Not an act can be ascribed to it having any smack of wisdom. The President put it to work in the spring of 1879 by a call of an extra session, rendered necessary by the factious effort of the Democratic House of the preceding Congress to stop the wheels of Government. It made a record at that session which so alarmed the country that from the day of its adjournment the fate of the Democratic party was sealed. The easy non-partisanship of the administration had opened the door for a Democratic future if the leaders of that doomed organization had been possessed of the most ordinary intelligence. But it became diseased with the old heresies of nullification, resistance to United States laws, and general "cussedness," and sank far below the level of the average intelligence of its own membership. The Republican party gave the lower House of Congress over to the Democracy at a most opportune time. Our defeat in the congressional elections of 1874 was not due to any new confidence of the people in the Democracy, but rather to the panic among many of our own leaders, which quickly extended to the party at large. The session of 1872-'3 was devoted largely to investigations ordered in deference to the desires of the opposition. We had a class of men of prominence in our party who thought the best way to strengthen the Republican cause before the country was to show that as a rule Republicans were thieves, and to exhibit them in the attitude of expelling each other from the party. They went upon the plan adopted by the old market woman in selling her butter. "Is your butter clean?" asked a buyer. "Well, I should think it ought to be," said the old woman; "it took me the hairs out of it." The butter did not sell. The questioner went in search of some which had not required such purgation. And so the people, taking the Republican purifiers at their word, preferred to pass by the Republican candidates in the election of 1874 and vote for men whose party did not claim to be so rotten. The surrender of the lower House to the Democrats in 1874 was the result of cowardice and light no facts which need have damaged the party; but the eagerness of some political quacks to establish themselves in business led them to raise a howl that general demoralization prevailed which they alone could cure. The public, The edition of THE REPUBLICAN will which is always a hypochondriac, believed probably be larger than has ever before itself dangerously ill, and desperately re- THE body of General Colley has been Democratic House of Representatives, in a few hours with full military honors. Senator Eaton, as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, has formulated a proper expression of a national sentiment, and Mr. Hoar has been no less happy in proposing an addition, without which European powers would have a just right of dissent. There is a cool impudence in the Colombian government assuming that it has the right to make a Petitions praying for the use of cold concession for an interoceanic ship-canal without submitting the question to our Government, in view of an existing treaty. M. de Lesseps is no less impudent, and far more adroit in securing the less of far advanced as to leave comparatively little of the time otherwise available for the work. Mr. Jones, of Florida, from the Committee on The Democratic party managers thought | Public Buildings, reported adversely the House concurrent resolution granting the use of the Museum building to the Light Infantry Corps of the District of Columbia on Monday evening, March 7. Indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Davis, of West Virginia, stated in regard to the joint resolution for the payment of Government employees in the District for holidays, which had been referred to the Committee on Appropriations, that that committee had been so much engaged of late that the subject had not been considered. As chairman of the committee, he had overlooked the proposition, he now reported itathis own instance, without any recommendation by the committee.

Mr. Paddock made an ineffectual effort to have the resolution considered, being obliged to yield the floor to Mr. Beck for the sundry civil bill. After disposing of business of no special interest the Senate took up the sundry civil appropriation

Mr. Beck, who reported the bill, explained the items of increase made by the Senate committee, premising as follows: The amount of the bill as it passed the House was about $29,720,000, and the passed the House was about $29,720,000, and the total as now reported to the Senate $22,840,000, the Senate baving added $2,119,000. The aggregate was $910,000 less than the estimates, and $324,000 in excess of the total of appropriations for the current fiscal year. The items of the increase made by the Senate committee were made up as follows: For the barge office building in New York, $100,000; for the assay-office, New York, $30,000; a new light-house on the coast of California, $40,000; constructing a revenue steamer for the Gulf coast (to supply the loss of one now useless), $75,000; for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, $50,000. Passing over a number of small items, he said the committee had, upon quite urgent representations, added $50,000 to the National Board of Health appropriation, and $250,000 to enable the Superintendent of Public Buildings to proceed with the cutting of granite for the new west and centre wings of the State, War, and Navy Departments building, this last in-War, and Navy Departments building, this last in-crease being made now so as to avoid a probable delay of the work to follow from deferring the purchase and preparation of the gran-ite until the expiration of the coming fiscal to the committee that a hall for the safe keeping of records of the executive departments (a bill for this object having already passed the Senate and being now in the House) ought to be erected, and $200,000 had been appropriated for a site for such a building, the same to be erected under the supervision of the Quartermaster-General in separate pervision of the Quartermaster-General in separate, compartments, &c., so as to be made as absolutely fire-proof as possible. The Pension Office was now paying from $20,000 to $24,000 in rent for insufficient accommodations, and, upon economical considerations, the committee had recommended $250,000 for a site for a building for the use of the Pension Bureau. An addition of $75,000 had been to insure its early completion, and having a common benefit.

THE SOUTHERN MARYLAND RAILROAD.

Location of the Road and Objects.

The SOUTHERN MARYLAND RAILEOAD is designed to extend from Point Lookout, at the mouth of the Potomac River, to Washington, where it will make connection with the Baltimore and Potomac Branch of the Pennsylvania Boad, and with the Washington and Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Itoad.

From Point Lookout to Brandywine, where it intersects the Pope's Creek Branch of the Baltimore and Potomac Boad, is a distance of 55 miles, of which is miles have been graded. The length of the road $7 miles. In its location it conforms closely to the dividing ridge between the waters of Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay from Point Lookout to line city of Washington.

The charter is a liberal one, and was obtained in 1868. The objects of its projectors were the agriculture. ses. The objects of its projectors were the agricultural development of Point Lookout Peninsula and to pen a new outlet to the Atlantic Ocean by way of St. dury's River and Chesapeake Bay for the vast and over-increasing productions of the great West.

The Southern Maryland Road is virtually an extension of the Poincard the Religious and Ohio. on of the Pennsylvania and the Baithmore and Onio oads to deep water in the lower Chesapeake and rough then and their ramifications it becomes con-scied with the whole radirond system of the country, id with the coal fields of Virginia, Maryland, and
